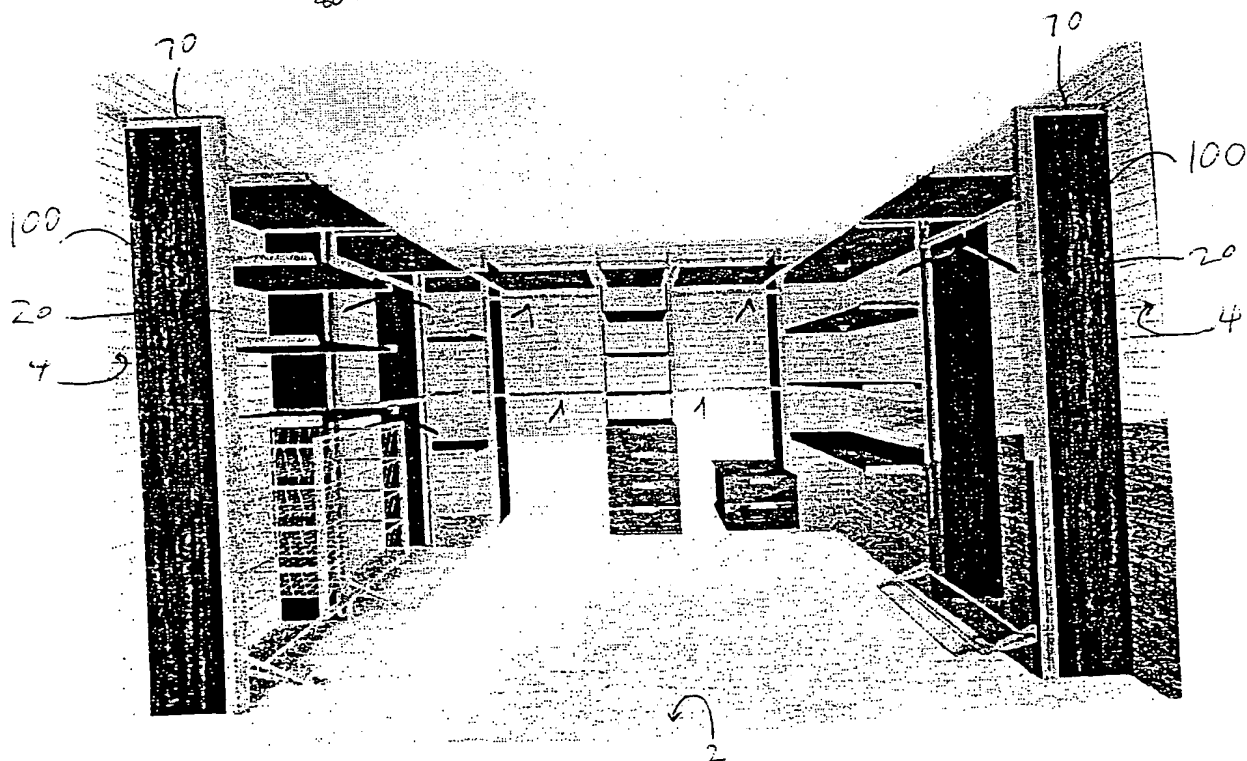

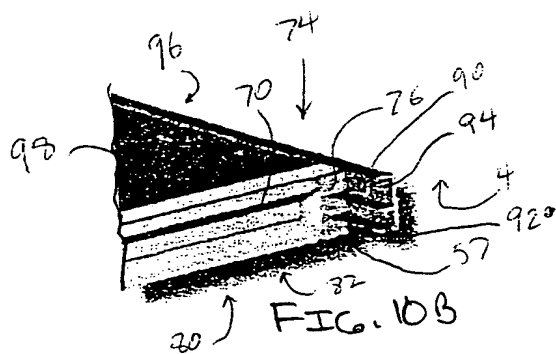

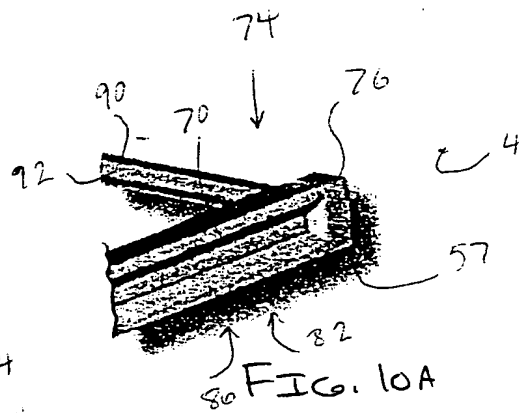

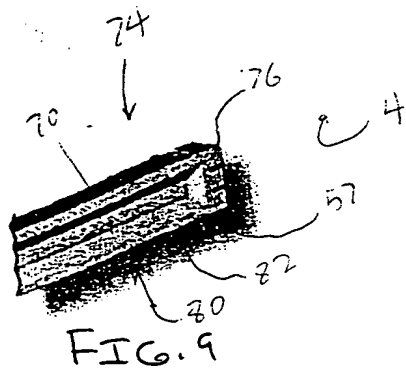

FIG. 11

FIG. 1 is a perspective view of a rectangular box 110. The box has a top flap 112 and a side flap 114. A small rectangular piece 113 is shown separately to the right of the box.

This diagram shows the front door assembly in an exploded perspective view. It includes a main door body (110) with a handle (112) and a lock mechanism (113). A separate component (114) is shown below the door body, likely a latch or strike plate.
